

In addition to widespread mobility features throughout the system, Centerprism empowers your organization with an easy-to-use external mobile app solution. The app will instantly link your website without any complex configuration or integration efforts. Having a native mobile app that can be offered to customers gives you a leg up on your competition. Text message alerts can be sent to your customers about sales or special events and your website's SEO ranking will improve.

For today's business environment, you need a complete mobile app solution.

Instant Native Mobile App

With Centerprism's Instant Native Mobile App, you can easily turn your existing Centerprism ERP features into a native mobile application for your customers and your business needs. This allows your site to offer more features to your mobile visitors than ever before.

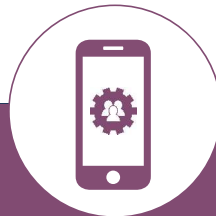

- Increase SEO: improve your Website's ranking
- Instantly send Push Notifications to your customers

Mobile Intelligent Push

Easily send test messages to customers, vendors, and other important key contacts in your system with information relating to sales, purchasing, shipping, service, special offers, alerts, and any important message you need to send out quickly.

- Stay Top of Mind with Customers
